1. Defined Fees

The following fees have the meanings given to them in the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth).

Activity fee

A fee is an activity fee if:

- the fee relates to costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity that are directly related to an activity of the trustee:
 - that is engaged in at the request, or with the consent, of a member; or
 - that relates to a member and is required by law; and
- those costs are not otherwise charged as an administration fee, an investment fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an exit fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

Administration fee

An administration fee is a fee that relates to the administration or operation of the superannuation entity and includes costs that relate to that administration or operation, other than:

- borrowing costs; and
- indirect costs that are not paid out of the superannuation entity that the trustee has elected in writing will be treated as indirect costs and not fees incurred by the trustee of the entity or in an interposed vehicle or derivative financial product; and
- costs that are otherwise charged as an investment fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an exit fee, an activity fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

Advice fee

A fee is an advice fee if:

1. The fee relates directly to costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity because of the provision of financial product advice to a member by:
 - a) a trustee of the entity; or
 - b) another person acting as an employee of, or under an arrangement with, the trustee of the entity; and
2. those costs are not otherwise charged as an administration fee, an investment fee, a switching fee, an exit fee, an activity fee or an insurance fee.

Buy-sell spread

A buy-sell spread is a fee to recover transaction costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity in relation to the sale and purchase of assets of the entity.

Exit fee

An exit fee is a fee to recover the costs of disposing of all or part of members' interests in the superannuation entity.

Indirect cost ratio

The indirect cost ratio (ICR), for a MySuper product or an investment option offered by a superannuation entity, is the ratio of the total of the indirect costs for the MySuper product or investment option, to the total average net assets of the superannuation entity attributed to the MySuper product or investment option.

Note: A fee deducted from a member's account or paid out of the superannuation entity is not an indirect cost.

Investment fee

An investment fee is a fee that relates to the investment of the assets of a superannuation entity and includes:

1. fees in payment for the exercise of care and expertise in the investment of those assets (including performance fees); and
2. costs that relate to the investment of assets of the entity, other than:
 - a) borrowing costs; and
 - b) indirect costs that are not paid out of the superannuation entity that the trustee has elected in writing will be treated as indirect costs and not fees, incurred by the trustee of the entity or in an interposed vehicle or derivative financial product; and
 - c) costs that are otherwise charged as an administration fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an exit fee, an activity fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

Switching fee

In the case of a MySuper product:

A switching fee for a MySuper product is a fee to recover the costs of switching all or part of a member's interest in a superannuation entity from one class of beneficial interest in the entity to another.

In the case of a superannuation product that is not a MySuper product:

A switching fee for a superannuation product other than a MySuper product, is a fee to recover the costs of switching all or part of a member's interest in a superannuation entity from one investment option or product in the entity to another.

2. Super and pension account fees and costs

Consumer advisory warning:

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees.¹ Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This section shows the fees and other costs you may be charged. The fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the Fund's assets as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees, advice fees and insurance fees, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity, advice or insurance chosen by you. Insurance fees and other costs relating to insurance are set out in the Insurance Guide. All fees disclosed in this Additional Information Guide are GST inclusive.

You should read all the information about fees and costs as it is important to understand their impact on your investments and your particular investment option.

Administration fee

The Core Menu Account keeping fee of $150 p.a. applies only if you have your whole Account balance in the investments listed in the Core Menu. Otherwise the Full Menu Account keeping fee of $250 p.a. applies. The fee is calculated daily based on your investment profile.

The full list of investments available in the Core Menu and Full Menu is on the Investment Menu in the Secure Online Portal.

The investments listed in the Core Menu and the Full Menu may change over time, which may result in different Account keeping fees applying to your Account.

Expense Reserve (ER)

The Trustee maintains an Expense Reserve (ER) for costs not related to the administration of the fund that are for members' benefit.

Adviser service fees

You may agree to pay an adviser service fee for Nextplan YourChoice Super and Nextplan YourChoice Pension provided to you. This adviser service fee may be deducted from your account, with your consent. The adviser service fee is limited to an initial or transactional fee of up to $5,500 per advice event and/or an ongoing service fee of up to 2.20% of your account balance, and will appear in the Statement of Advice provided to you by your financial adviser.

Ongoing fees may be negotiated with your financial adviser as a fixed dollar amount, subject to the above maximums.

Fees and costs of underlying investment

For Managed Funds, Managed Account Model Portfolios and ASX Listed securities such as ETFs and LICs, underlying fees may be charged by the fund manager, portfolio investment manager or the product provider. These fees and costs could include investment management fees, performance fees, contribution/withdrawal fees, indirect costs, and buy/sell spread.

You should refer to the underlying product disclosure statements or factsheet for the particular investment. Those disclosure documents are either available in the Secure Online Portal or through the product provider's website.

Cash Hub indirect cost

The Cash Hub indirect cost is the amount we charge in relation to our cash management activities. It equals the interest earned on your funds in the Cash Hub less the interest you receive in the Cash Hub.

The interest rate you receive in the Cash Hub is on average, the RBA Cash rate less 0.50%. The interest is calculated on your daily account balance and credited to your Cash Hub monthly. The latest available interest rate you earn on funds held in your Cash Hub can be found in the Secure Online Portal.

Transaction fees

There is no transaction fee charged to you.

Brokerage

Brokerage fees cover buying and selling listed securities including within a Managed Account Model Portfolio and may include government taxes.

Type	Brokerage	How and when paid
ASX Listed Security	0.11% of the transaction value (minimum of $22.00 per trade)	Deducted from your Account at the time of settlement of the trade.
ASX and International Listed Security within a Managed Account Model portfolio	0.33% (0.22% for netting) per trade	Deducted from your Account at the time of settlement of Managed Account trade.

We implement all transactions on your behalf and earn brokerage rebates on some transactions we directly implement. These rebates may vary up to 0.275% (including GST) of the value of each securities transaction. They may be received by way of non-cash services and are not returned to investors.

When carrying out a transaction, we may offset your buy/sell instructions against your, or other investor's instructions in relation to the same securities, so that only net transactions are acted on. When this occurs, a netting fee will be charged and this will be 0.22% of the value of each security transaction. In some cases, this may result in a benefit to us.

In some cases, the transactions required to re-balance the Managed Account Model Portfolio will be too small to take to market (in many cases, brokers have a minimum trade value). If this occurs, we may purchase the securities from you and a netting fee of 0.22% of the value of each security will be charged.

For the last complete financial year, the cost of brokerage in relation to investment manager directed rebalancing of a Managed Account Model Portfolio was 0.28% of the net value of the investment. Based on the $50,000 fees and costs example, and allowing for your minimum Cash Hub balance, for $47,500 invested in a Managed Account Model Portfolio, this would add $133 to the annual cost of your investment.

International Listed Security global market fees

In addition to above brokerage, buying and selling of International Listed Securities within Managed Account Model Portfolios will incur recovery of expenses stated in the 'Global Market Fees' schedule available in the Secure Online Portal as updated from time to time. These amounts differ between international exchanges and will be deducted from your Account at the time of the trade settlement.

Netting and batching of trades

We assess the net trading requirements of all the Managed Account Model Portfolios and generally transact on a daily basis (if necessary). We may also use batch trading to accumulate orders for a period of time and process transactions in a group (or batch). All securities will be allocated to the relevant accounts on a pro-rata basis. We use a selected panel of brokers for ASX Listed Securities and International Listed Securities in order to maximise trade efficiencies. Where transactions are netted, the buyer will acquire the securities at the offer price (or application price) and the seller will sell at the bid price (or redemption price) that is available in the market (or from the Managed Fund).

We incur costs of keeping a holding in the underlying investments which facilitates the transfer of small trades and the management of rounding. We will be entitled to any profit and subjected to any loss on these transactions.

Insurance Fees

If you elect insurance cover, insurance administration fees are payable in addition to your premium.

Fees for insurance
Type of fee	Amount	How and when paid

3. Receiving your pension

How much can you receive?

The minimum amount you are required to draw from your account each year is known as your minimum income limit. Your minimum income limit depends on your account balance and age on 1 July of each year.

A maximum income limit of 10% of your account balance applies to Transition to Retirement Pensions. After 1 July each year the Trustee will write to you advising you of your new limits.

Minimum income limit
Your Age at 1 July ¹	% of account balance 1 July and beyond
Under 65	4
65 – 74	5
75 – 79	6
80 – 84	7
85 – 89	9
90 – 94	11
95 +	14

Case studies

Peter is aged 68, fully retired and has a pension account balance of $200,000. He would like to start an Account Based Pension on 1 July 2017. Peter would calculate his minimum income limit as follows: $$200,000 \times 5.00\% = $10,000$. No maximum income limit applies as Peter's account is not a Transition to Retirement Pension account.

Julia is aged 62, working part time and has a Transition to Retirement Pension account balance of $300,000. Julia would calculate her minimum income limit as follows: $$300,000 \times 4.00\% = $12,000$ and her maximum income limit as follows: $$300,000 \times 10\% = $30,000$. As Julia wants to start the Transition to Retirement Pension on 1 January 2017, the minimum would be $6,000 and the maximum is $30,000.

This section provides a summary of the income requirements imposed on account-based pensions. Super laws and income requirements are subject to change, and you should visit www.ato.gov.au to confirm the most up to date account-based pension income requirements.

Death benefit nominations

Reversionary pension

Your death benefit can be paid to a dependant as a pension if you die after commencing your pension. This is called a reversionary pension and the recipient is known as your reversionary beneficiary.

You may only nominate one of the dependants for tax purposes as your reversionary beneficiary (refer to Section 7, item titled 'Tax on death benefits' in the Nextplan YourChoice Pension PDS).

When can I nominate a reversionary beneficiary?

You may only nominate a reversionary beneficiary when you first open your account. In the application form we ask if you want to nominate a reversionary beneficiary - you cannot make a reversionary beneficiary nomination later.

Can I change a reversionary beneficiary nomination?

You cannot change a reversionary beneficiary nomination, however if you make a new binding or non-binding nomination, your reversionary beneficiary nomination will become invalid.

Are there other circumstances when a reversionary beneficiary nomination may become invalid?

At the time of your death, the Trustee will decide whether a reversionary beneficiary nomination is still valid. Your nomination will become invalid if you divorce, if your reversionary beneficiary dies before you or if your beneficiary is a child over 18 who is no longer deemed to be financially dependent on you.

Lump sum payments

Lump sum payments may be paid to beneficiaries whether they are dependant(s) or legal personal representatives.

If a beneficiary is not a dependant for tax purposes, benefit payments may be subject to tax (see 'Tax on death benefits' in the Pension PDS for more details). Children over 18 are generally not dependants for tax purposes unless they are disabled or aged between 18 and 25 and financially dependent.

How to nominate a beneficiary

When nominating a beneficiary you can choose to make either a non-binding death benefit nomination, or a binding death benefit nomination.

Non-binding death benefit nomination

Your non-binding death benefit nomination serves as a guide to us as to your wishes regarding the payment of your death benefit. It is not binding on the Trustee; however, we will take your wishes into consideration when making the decision as to whom your death benefit is paid. The Trustee will make a decision based on the circumstances of your nominated beneficiary or other claimants at the time of your death, as these may have changed since you completed your nomination.

Binding death benefit nomination

Binding death benefit nominations provide greater certainty as to who benefits from your pension following your death. There are advantages and disadvantages when choosing a binding death benefit nomination, so we recommend that you seek professional advice before taking up this option.

To make a valid binding nomination:

- you must nominate one or more dependants (as defined) and/or your legal personal representative;
- your allocation percentages must total 100%, otherwise your nomination will be invalid;
- your nomination must be in writing;
- your nomination must be signed and dated, in the presence of two witnesses, being persons:
 - both of whom have turned 18 years of age, and

¹ In the financial year in which your pension account commences, your minimum income limit is pro-rated on the number of days remaining in the financial year. No minimum payment is required if the account commences on or after 1 June. In the event of your death where a valid reversionary beneficiary exists the minimum income limit will be recalculated using the reversionary pensioner's age.

- neither of whom is mentioned in the nomination; and
- your nomination must contain a declaration signed and dated by the witnesses stating that the nomination was signed by you in their presence.

The Nomination of Beneficiary form is available on the Fund's website or upon request.

Note: Binding nominations have a fixed term of three years and override any nomination you have made previously. We are required to follow a valid binding death nomination even if your circumstances changed between the date of the binding nomination and the time of your death. You must confirm or amend your binding nomination at least every three years in order for it to be valid. If you do not renew your binding nomination before the expiry date, your nomination will revert to a non-binding nomination. You may revoke your binding nomination at any time.

4. How to transact in your account

Transferring in multiple super accounts

You may want to include benefits from a number of super funds into Nextplan YourChoice Super or Nextplan YourChoice Pension. To do this for pension, all benefits must first be consolidated into a single super fund (for example a Nextplan YourChoice Super account) prior to establishing your Nextplan YourChoice Pension account. The funds will be invested in the investment options you choose.

The Trustee will ask you to provide proof of identification.

Before you transfer any funds from your other super accounts to Nextplan YourChoice Super, you should consider:

- Possible exit fees
- Any loss of benefits, particularly insurance
- Additional costs
- Investment performance
- Tax
- Estate planning
- Whether you should seek professional advice

What proof of identification do you need?

The Trustee maintains high standards of security for the protection of our members including ensuring that we appropriately verify your identity.

When you apply to open a Nextplan account we require you to provide certified identification documents.

Generally, providing us with a certified copy of your current Australian driver's licence or your current passport is the most straightforward way to confirm your identity. If you don't have either of these documents or you are unsure what we mean by a certified copy, contact us.

Keeping track of your super and pension account

You can do the following online via the Secure Online Portal:

- View your account balance
- Update your details (including contact and banking details)
- Review and make changes to your investment options

- Check your transaction history
- Vary your pension payment
- Additionally, product updates and personalised communications will be published to you online. This will include such items as:
 - Your annual statement
 - Your annual pension payment schedule
 - Rollover payment confirmation advice
 - Annual reports
 - Any other form or piece of information upon your request

Appointing a Nominated Representative

Your adviser is integral to the operation of your portfolio of investments, assets and liabilities held in your account. You must have and maintain an adviser to use the product.

Your adviser (or their staff) is your primary point of contact and any queries that you have concerning your investments or your portfolio should be directed to them in the first instance. Not having an adviser and obtaining advice can have an adverse impact on you.

Appointing your adviser as Nominated Representative allows them to provide instructions to us on your behalf including transacting via the Secure Online Portal.

To operate your account, you must nominate your adviser to access and operate your account on your behalf.

We refer to the people who you nominate as your Nominated Representatives.

To give your authority to a Nominated Representative you need to read the "Nominated Representative Terms and Conditions" section of this Guide and complete the relevant section of the Application Form.

Your Nominated Representative is able to exercise all of the rights you grant them (except the right to transfer the authorisation to another person) to operate the products and services in your account on your behalf, including to:

- Provide instructions relating to your account
- Execute investment decisions via the Secure Online Portal
- Access your personal information online
- Make enquiries regarding your investments, and
- If you have so authorised them using a direct debit request form, instruct us to make additional investments on your behalf and debit your nominated bank account.

5. Other things to consider

Anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing act (AML/CTF)

In accordance with the AML/CTF Act, the Administrator is required to collect information with respect to the identity of all applicants (including any third parties) in order to determine the beneficial owners of all accounts. As such you may be required to verify your identity and source of your application monies before providing services or before making a benefit payment to you, and to re-identify you if it is considered necessary to do so.

Where you supply documentation as requested the Administrator will keep a record of this documentation for 7 years. If you do not provide the requested documentation there may be a delay in processing your account opening or benefit payment, or possible suspension of an opened account. Under the provisions of the AML/CTF Act, the Administrator also has the right to not provide a designated service in certain circumstances.

Will your pension account affect your social security pension?

The balance of your pension account is included in the social security Assets Test and the deemed income from your pension is also included in the social security Age Pension Income Test.

Superannuation Contributions Splitting

Superannuation fund members can split contributions made to their fund to their spouse's superannuation account. The spouse's account does not have to be with the Fund.

Only taxed superannuation contributions may be split, i.e. personal contributions on which you have claimed a deduction or employer contributions.

The application to split must be made either:

- in the following financial year (i.e. the application must be made between 1 July and 30 June in the financial year following the year in which the contributions were made), or
- during the financial year if the entire benefit is to be rolled over or transferred before the end of that financial year.

The maximum splittable amount for any financial year is 85% of taxed splittable contributions. Since taxable contributions are included in the assessable income of a superannuation fund, the 85% limit on taxed splittable contributions is a simple means of ensuring members cannot split more than the amount remaining in their account which relates to those taxed splittable contributions.

For income tax purposes, amounts split to a spouse's account are treated as a contributions-splitting eligible termination payment (ETP) and are taken to have been rolled over to the spouse's account. The eligible service period (ESP) of the contributions-splitting ETP is always zero. The applicant's ESP in respect of the contributions-splitting ETP does not transfer to the receiving spouse.

Family law

Family law is a complex issue. In this section we outline how your pension could be affected after a relationship breakdown. In the event of a relationship deterioration it is recommended you seek legal advice about any effect it may have on your super.

Super or pension benefits of married or de facto couples who are separated or divorced can be divided either by agreement or by court order. This allows part, or all of a super or pension benefit to be transferred from one spouse to the other

The Trustee is required to make any payment from your pension account in accordance with a super agreement or court order. There may be tax consequences as a result of splitting a super benefit and you should seek advice from your tax adviser.

Your account can also be flagged either by agreement or court order, preventing us from making most types of payments from the account. The Trustee is required, if requested under these provisions, to provide information regarding your account to your spouse or partner and must not advise you that we have done so.

The Trustee may charge fees for family law enquiries and family law account splitting.

How to apply for information: The Family Court of Australia publishes a "Super Information Kit" containing the paperwork you need to apply for information about your spouse or partner's super or pension fund. The kit can be downloaded at www.familycourt.gov.au.

The Fund's Trust Deed

The governing rules of the Fund are set out in the MAP Master Super Plan Trust Deed. The Trustee's Board has some powers to alter the Trust Deed. The Trustee will inform you if the Trustee believes that a change to the Trust Deed would affect members of the Fund.

This product is one of the products offered through the MAP Superannuation Plan, created by this deed.

You can request a copy of the MAP Master Super Plan Trust Deed at no cost.

What are your rights under the Trust Deed?

The Trust Deed sets out your rights, which include:

- the circumstances in which you are entitled to benefits,
- how and when benefits may be paid to you,
- the nature of the investment units, and
- how the Trustee must calculate unit prices, and what you are entitled to receive when you withdraw or if the Fund is wound up.

There are also provisions governing powers and duties as Trustee:

- the power to invest, borrow and generally manage the Fund,
- the discretion to refuse transfers and applications,
- the ability to terminate the Fund after giving you notice. Where the Trustee decides to terminate the Fund, the Trustee will distribute the net proceeds (upon sale of investments after costs) on a pro rata basis to participants of the Fund,
- the ability to retire as trustee if the Trustee has arranged for another appropriate trustee to be appointed in place, and the power to charge fees and recover expenses.

The administration of Nextplan YourChoice Super and Nextplan YourChoice Pension (including investments and benefit payments) must always comply with superannuation law, which can change.

Reserves

The Trustee maintains reserves in the Nextplan YourChoice Super Fund for the benefit of members. Reserves are held to meet licence conditions, facilitate administration efficiency and are invested to the benefit of members.

With your written consent, we will disclose information about your investment in the Fund to your accountant, financial adviser or others you have nominated. Personal information may also be disclosed to the Australian Taxation Office or other government authorities or agencies as required by law.

You can find out how to access the information we hold about you, and how to ask us to correct any incorrect information, in our Privacy Policy on the Secure Online Portal.
